

This is a selection of tracks produced during the period between 2001 and 2004. Originally they were not intended to be released, but rather seen as private experiments or ideas sketching. Strange emergent processes then led to this music being released on the ixi label.

The tracks were done in different locations mostly under precarious circumstances. Cheap equipment (sometimes borrowed) and home made software was used in the process of creating them.

ixi label x002 - 2006.

This is the proposed listening order, however, you might choose your own.
